

Register, recycle & experience

Register online

Go to www.natuurpunt.be/biofuels and fill out the form. Indicate if you will be staying for the free lunch & meet, and if you'll need a free taxi.

Recycle: bring a bottle

Bring a bottle of used deep-frying oil to the conference and put it in the collection box of our partner Oliobox. One full box = 3m2 new nature. The used deep-frying oil will be filtered and afterwards mixed with biodiesel.

Experience our electric taxi

An electrical and free taxi of our partner EV Point can bring you from Gent Sint Pieters station to the conference in the Zebrastraat. If you want, you can drive yourself, to test the smooth experience of electric driving.

Only with reservation.

Invitation

The future of biofuels

Zebrastraat, Gent

The future of biofuels

conference + debate

with kathleen van brempt (eu parliament)
wim soetaert (prof. ugent, bio base)

Natuurpunt and MO* invite policymakers, scientists, companies, NGO's and the wide public to join the discussion on the future of biofuels. Europe will have its say in September, but what's your opinion?

What's going on?

International scientific reports say biofuels are not climate neutral, the food versus fuel debate is still ongoing, the European Commission wants more sustainable criteria, companies ask for more security for their investments, and environmental and social organizations point out the bad impacts on people and planet.

The question remains

How are we going to reach the European energy and climate goals?

Hot topics of this conference

What is the impact of biofuels on people, climate and biodiversity? What did Europe decide and what are the next steps? And how do policymakers, NGO's, companies and science see the future?

Thursday
19 Sept
